Dolphins Out-Kick Rams, 16-12

The Dolphins really were lucky to come out with a win today as they were flat offensively and defensively. Even the offensive playcalling made you want to scratch your head. At least Miami's special teams looked good for a change as it looks like we are starting to turn the corner with that aspect of our game.

QB Chad Pennington's ability to get rid of the ball quickly to the open receiver gave the Dolphins their 7th win of the season. The offensive line pass blocked poorly and were called for numerous holding and false starts. The secondary did pick off 3 passes, but they were called for numerous pass interference penalties.WR Davone Bess led the Dolphins with 6 catches for 84 yards, but Ginn seemed to drop a few passes that were catchable.

The Dolphins continue to play just a little better against opponents that they are supposed to beat. Winning is all we can ask. Who cares if it isn't pretty.

Be sure to come by tomorrow morning to read Rich's analysis of this game.
