Dolphins 3, Titans 37 - The Good, The Bad and The Ugly

The Good

The Bad
Let's start with turnovers. And not just turnovers, but turnovers at inopportune times and at inopportune areas of the field. From the Reggie Bush fumble, to the Tannehill pick 6. And honestly, I stopped watching the game in the 3rd quarter so I am not even sure what happened on the 3rd interception.

Preparation - this team obviously came out unprepared and were perhaps looking forward to the division game against the Bills. What did the coaches do this week?

Heart - this team showed no heart once it got down by three scores.

Defense - they allowed a 100 yard rusher for the first time in 22 games. The run defense and the running game have left the building. It is difficult to win games when you can't win in the trenches.

And where was the gameplan to contain a running quarterback with accuracy issues?

The Ugly
The Titans had something to prove after an absolutely embarassing loss to the Bears. Now the Dolphins have suffered an absolutely embarassing loss. How do you not prepare for the other team coming out with fire?

Overall

Not much to say here guys. This was an all around collapse. Worse home loss since 1968.

Thursday's game against the Bills will say a lot about these players and this coaching staff.
