

Rack up another home win

While it might not be pretty this team continues to do what needs to be done. Win at home.

Like I stated weeks ago , protect your home turf & all else should fall into place.

The way this season has gone for us , this week is no different as we get set to play a Patriot team that simply is not the Patriots. They come limping in with no Brady , no Running Backs & at least 2 starters out on Defense.

We should once again capitalize on this enroute to another victory.

Anything is possible this season .. im not saying super bowl but for the first time in a long time things are falling our way.

There has been talk on the boards that next year might not go as well due to a harder schedule & teams like the Patriots looking to be healthy & reloading.

Guys, for the first time in a long time we are playing meaningful games later in the season, enjoy it because we all know fortunes in the NFL change rather quickly.
