

Dolphins fall apart midway through the 4th quarter; lose 48-28

Contributed by Dave Blake
Sunday, 23 November 2008

This game was a back-and-forth game until the middle of the 4th quarter. The Dolphins then imploded. The score definitely does not tell the story as Mr. Class Belichick called a nothing touchdown at the end of the game, but QB Matt Cassell's stats paint a disappointing story concerning an ineffective secondary. Miami's achilles heel is their secondary. So far, only WILL ALLEN and YEREMIAH BELL are the only ones worth keeping. Everyone else in the secondary should be replaced.

The Dolphins now find themselves at 6-5 and tied for last with the Bills. To be in last place with a 6-5 record just lets you know how competitive our division is. Playoffs could still be in the picture, but we have to take control of our destiny ourselves. Losing to the Patriots was not a surprise today. Even I picked us to lose.

If you find yourself down on this team right now, I suggest you take a good look at what we did last year, and take a good look at what we've accomplished this year. We are playing beyond what anyone expected. It is important that COACH SPARANO pull the guys together and get their minds back on track. The way they acted in the second half of the 4th quarter was very disappointing.

Be sure to read Rich's thoughts tomorrow for his analysis. Have a great Thanksgiving Week with your families!

Dave

Download the Free Phinfever Browser Toolbar

Support Phinfever by buying what you need from our advertisers. They pretty much pay the bills for us. Thanks!

Get the latest Miami Dolphins NFL lines at BetUS - America's online sports betting site for football betting and NFL odds and lines.

If you're looking for things to do in Miami FL, check CTC for Miami comedy shows and Miami football schedules. Also buy NFL tickets and college sports tickets, including Miami Dolphins football tickets and cheap Hurricanes football tickets.